

Greetings to all Members and Friends of UUCLV,

No one likes to talk about money, least of all, me. Although we belong to a faith that pursues a “free and disciplined search for truth and meaning”, lots of things need to be paid for if we are to continue our mission of being a beacon in the desert. We have this old building to maintain, salaries to pay, a reserve fund to contribute to, and the list goes on. Of course, we also have our wish list: a music director, a religious education director, and dare I say it, perhaps even a part-time minister.

The best way to keep ourselves going is to have a steady flow of income that we can count on. That’s where you come in. With your pledge we can fund the present and plan for the future. Fundraisers are great, but the majority of our operating budget comes from your pledges that are fulfilled every month.

Please consider what this place means to you. It’s not only a place to gather every Sunday to participate in a service that sustains us during the week, but a place to meet for our C.U.U.P.s group - Sanctuary of Solace, Tarot Club, Contra-dancing, food pantry, religious education, Battle Jacket Sewing Club and many more activities. We need you to support us. It’s vital. Please think long and hard about what you can contribute in these difficult and uncertain times. We are counting on you.

Yours,

Maggie Mooha

President of the Board of Trustees, UUCLV
